3.5 Advanced Certificate Programmes

Advanced Certificate in Financial Services Management (ACFSM)

ID: `acfsm` · Department: Department of Banking and Finance

Summary: First advanced certificate programme of its nature offered by the department under its external programmes (SLQF Level 2).

Programme Description

The Department of Banking and Finance is one of the prominent departments in the Sri Lankan university system to cater needs of the Banking & financial industry. The introduction of this nature of course was a long-felt need of the Industry as there are no advanced certificate programmes offered by any university related to this discipline. Further, many employees in the banking and financial services sector are engaged in their work without theoretical background related to their employment. The Department of Banking and Finance considered this vacuum and decided to introduce this Advanced Certificate programme with the aim of infusing enthusiasm among potential people who are eager to solve problems they encountered while in the service. This is the first Advanced Certificate programme introduced by the Department of this nature under its external programmes. Financial firms, on the other hand, could monitor this programme and embody this into their promotion schemes too. The programme is designed following the requirements of the Sri Lanka Qualification Framework (SLQF) Level 2.
